RADOVLJICA late October
ZAGREB, SARAJEVO Spring 2015

All children are born creative. The question is if they can maintain that creativity when they are adults.

The exhibition follows work from the Waldorf kindergarten and school that follows the development of thinking through an artistic medium. The drawings have been produced by young people from the age of 3 years to 19 years. It traces the spontaneous drawing of the pre-school child in different stages through the taught discipline of Form Drawing in the early school years to formal Geometry in adolescence and the upper school. The drawings are accompanied by texts that explain the developmental approach that typifies this form of education. The exhibition is open to the general public.
